Long Lost Friend

A Codex of the Infinite Planes
Guiding Inspiration of a Muse
for 20 Balanced Influencers
within Reflections of Reality

11/1/26

1. Prologue - - -

1 Prologue

1.1 Beren's Test

1.1.1 I wouldn't think that the Muse of Dance
would have dominion
over eating a sandwich.

1.1.2 Maybe there's a separate
Muse of Sandwiches.

1.1.3 Have to check mythology.

1.2 Dhruva's Share

1.2.1 This Pattern is not mine.
You know that.
I did not do it just for Him.
I did it for the best of Him.
I'm sure it could be made better.

1.3 Melisse's Acceptance

1.3.1 ok,
if I've been compelled to take this to hand
then I am going to make it absolutely all mine
partly in a defiant way
but also in an accepting way
learning to find beauty and positivity in it

Prologue

1.4 Magnus's Hope

1.4.1 And all shall be well
And all manner of things shall be well
When the tongues of flame are in-folded
Into the crowned knot of fire
And the fire and the rose are one.

2 Life and Death

Life and Death are not permanent in Reflections of Reality and Wastelands except where noted in Long Lost Friend.

2.1 The Wathan

2.1.1 The essence of a Creature is the Personality, which manifests as the Wathan. The Wathan shall remain separate from any fleshy envelope or physical instantiation of a Creature. This permits revivification, raising of the dead, resurrection, reincarnation, or rebirth for all Shadowcasters within Reflections of Reality and Wasteland.

2.1.2 Unless Shadow Casting, the Wathan is impervious to any supernatural force less than the Archetype Attribute wielded with intention.

2.2 The Akashik Record

2.2.1 The complete Personality of a Wathan appears in its Akashik Record. The Akashik Record permits the study and restoration of essence of a Personality which is not otherwise perceived.

2.2.2 Reflections of Reality deities know the Akashik Record of each anointed Personality. Reflections of Reality deities may grant the miracle of transcribing the Akashik Record to anointed Clerics who have researched its ramifications.

Life and Death

2.3 Death Note

2.3.1 Akashik Death

2.3.1.1 The creature whose name is written in Death Note shall die.

2.3.1.1.1 [Binding Illegible Information]

2.3.2 Erasure and Rebirth

2.3.2.1 Blacksword may raise their Aspect or wield their Attribute to return the dead to life, and thereby erase a name from Death Note.

2.3.2.1.1 Section 2.3.2.1 occurs naturally for Blacksword on themselves.

2.3.2.2 A purchaser of a Billikins Insurance Point may raise this Aspect to return themselves to life, and thereby erase their name from Death Note.

2.3.2.3 A Friend of Tandor may raise an Aspect or wield an Attribute to return the dead to life, and thereby erase a name from Death Note.

2.3.2.4 Druids may raise an Aspect of Revivify, Raise Dead, Resurrection, or True Resurrection to return the dead to life, and thereby erase a name from Death Note.

2.3.2.5 Wizards may raise an Aspect of Wish, fulfilled as Revivify, Raise Dead, or Resurrection, to return the dead to life, and thereby erase a name from Death Note.

Life and Death

2.3.2.6 Worlorn-born Clerics of the following deities may raise an Aspect of Revivify, Raise Dead, Resurrection, or True Resurrection to return the dead to life, and thereby erase a name from Death Note.

  - 2.3.2.7.7.2 Church of Damon Maker

3 Inspiration of a Muse

Inspiration of a Muse permits the Wathan to change its Akashik Record through interaction with Aspect and Attribute.

3.1 Inspired Adventures

3.1.1 Inspired Casting-of-Shadows must have a Haiku Party Leader with Aspiration (Goals) where a chance exists for failure.

3.1.2 The Haiku Party Leader must describe explicitly what Fulfillment of that Aspiration looks like.

3.1.3 Without Aspiration and Fulfillment, no Milestones are awarded for an Inspired Casting-of-Shadows.

3.1.4 At the conclusion of the Inspired Casting-of-Shadows, the Haiku Party Leader receives an Aspiration Milestone, regardless.

3.1.5 Only if all Aspirations are Fulfilled during the Inspired Casting-of-Shadows shall party members receive a Fulfillment Milestone.

7 Bill of Ights

For Yellow Tribe

7.1 The Codex of the Broadly Finite Planes

7.1.1 I'm just keeping it real here
We're going to crank it out

7.1.2 We've done something.
If people want something, because we,
We set the bar,
they can get on our Crazy Train.
We're going off the rails!

7.1.3 For the whole world, not just ourselves,
Careful what you put in the book
it's good for a whole year.
It might not be good.
They will understand our contrition
and not come down and beat us up about it.

7.1.4 Everybody has to work for it
Nothing comes easy
Everyone has to work for their ite
Whatever it is you want.
You don't just get it.
No more cheese
Everybody has to work for it

7.2 The Muses' Quarrel

7.2.1 Thalia laughs, her jester's bell rings clear,
"This flame shall write of mirth and joyous cheer!"
But Melpomene, seeking sorrow at her behest,
Cries, "Nay, in tragedy he'll shine his best!"

Bill of Ights

7.2.2 Urania gazes at the starry sky,
"Let cosmic stars guide him home!"
Klinure whispers with a knowing smile,
"With Fire the world may yet dream a while."

7.2.3 Terpsichore, with steps both light and free,
Declares, "His shall dance with burning ecstasy!"
The muses clash, each vying for lead,
To guide the poet's pen, his fire to feed.

7.2.4 Yet in their fervent clash, they fail to see
The poet's soul may hold a harmony.
For in the tapestry of human art,
Each muse contributes her essential part.

7.2.5 So let the flame embrace discord's song,
And weave a work where gifts belong.

7.2.6 Erato says, "Ah, sisters, in this fray,
"What's art without heart's tender sway?"

7.2.7 "Let love's sweet whispers guide their hand,
For passion makes each verse to stand.
In laughter's joy and sorrow's sigh,
Love weaves through all, it cannot die."

7.2.8 "Stars may shine and dreams may gleam,
"Yet love ignites the soul's true dream.
"So let him pen not just of joy or pain,
"But love's embrace—its sun and rain."

7.2.9 "For in this dance where spirits soar,
"Love is the muse that opens every door.
"In life's grand play, where all take part,
"Love lights the fire in every heart."
