1 Prologue

1.1 Beren's Test

1.1.1 I wouldn't think that the Muse of Dance
would have dominion
over eating a sandwich.

1.1.2 Maybe there's a separate
Muse of Sandwiches.

1.1.3 Have to check mythology.

1.2 Dhruva's Share

1.2.1 This Pattern is not mine.
You know that.
I did not do it just for Him.
I did it for the best of Him.
I'm sure it could be made better.

1.3 Melisse's Acceptance

1.3.1 ok,
if I've been compelled to take this to hand
then I am going to make it absolutely all mine partly in a defiant way
but also in an accepting way learning to find beauty and positivity in it

Prologue

1.4 Magnus's Hope

1.4.1 And all shall be well
And all manner of things shall be well
When the tongues of flame are in-folded
Into the crowned knot of fire
And the fire and the rose are one.

2 Life and Death

Life and Death are not permanent in Reflections of Reality and Wastelands except where noted in Long Lost Friend.

2.1 The Wathan

2.1.1 The essence of a Creature is the Personality, which manifests as the Wathan. The Wathan shall remain separate from any fleshy envelope or physical instantiation of a Creature. This permits revivification, raising of the dead, resurrection, reincarnation, or rebirth for all Shadowcasters within Reflections of Reality and Wasteland.

2.1.2 Unless Shadow Casting, the Wathan is impervious to any supernatural force less than the Archetype Attribute wielded with intention.

2.2 The Akashik Record

2.2.1 The complete Personality of a Wathan appears in its Akashik Record. The Akashik Record permits the study and restoration of essence of a Personality which is not otherwise perceived.

2.2.2 Reflections of Reality deities know the Akashik Record of each anointed Personality. Reflections of Reality deities may grant the miracle of transcribing the Akashik Record to anointed Clerics who have researched its ramifications.

Life and Death

2.3 The Deathgod

2.3.1 One Creature known as Deathgod shall, by manipulation of Akashik Records, monitor, sustain, and permit Wathan instantiation, reincarnation, rebirth, raising of the dead, and revivification for all Shadowcasters within Reflections of Reality and Wasteland..

2.3.2 The wielder of Death Note Archetype Attribute becomes Deathgod of Reflections of Reality.

2.3.2.1 Death Note Archetype Attribute allows perception of the Akashik Record of any Wathan viewed.

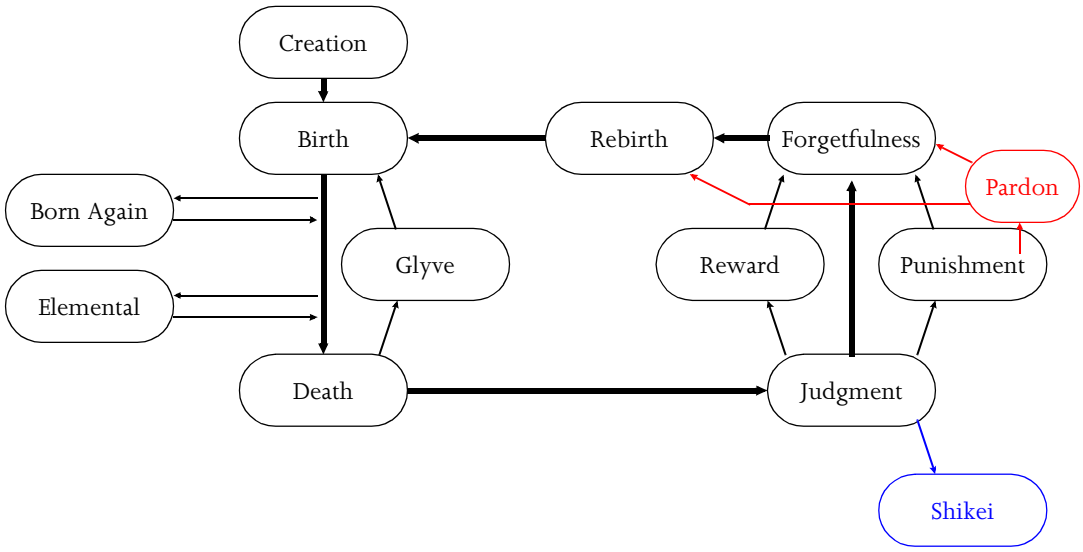

2.3.3 If Death Note Archetype Attribute is unwielded then there is no Deathgod.

2.3.3.1 Should time pass with no Deathgod then Casting-of-Shadows becomes forever impossible for Shadowcasters within Reflections of Reality and Wasteland.

2.3.4 Deathgod is slain by discharging the weapon Greyswandir Archetype Attribute in the presence of Deathgod within Reflections of Reality and Wasteland.

Life and Death

2.4 The Mortal Coil

2.4.1 The path of a Wathan through physical incarnation is the Mortal Coil.

2.4.2 CREATION : All things begin on the Blue Eye Anvil Archetype Attribute of creation.

2.4.2.1 The Maker is responsible for determining all Wathan Creation and entering them in the Akashik Records.

2.4.2.2 A Maker forges the Wathan and its original fleshy envelope to the whims of the Sentient Dragon who the Wathan is to serve.

Life and Death

2.4.3 BIRTH : The creature is born to natural parents and lives its life.
- 2.4.3.1 Blacksword determines how a creature is born.
- 2.4.3.2 Life is ended by Death, being Born Again, or through confronting a pure element.
- 2.4.3.3 Pure elements include damage types:
  - 2.4.3.3.1 Biology
    - 2.4.3.3.1.1 Entropy : Shadow Casting
    - 2.4.3.3.1.2 Negentropy : Heal
    - 2.4.3.3.1.3 Personality : Psychic
  - 2.4.3.3.2 Chaos
    - 2.4.3.3.2.1 Gas : Phlogisten
    - 2.4.3.3.2.2 Liquid : Flux
    - 2.4.3.3.2.3 Plasma : Sheen
    - 2.4.3.3.2.4 Solid : Irridisium
  - 2.4.3.3.3 Energy
    - 2.4.3.3.3.1 Gas : Thunder
    - 2.4.3.3.3.2 Liquid : Poison
    - 2.4.3.3.3.3 Plasma : Lightning
    - 2.4.3.3.3.4 Solid : Force
  - 2.4.3.3.4 Illumination
    - 2.4.3.3.4.1 Radiant (Light)
    - 2.4.3.3.4.2 Gloom (Absence of Light)
  - 2.4.3.3.5 Matter
    - 2.4.3.3.5.1 Gas - Air
    - 2.4.3.3.5.2 Liquid - Acid
    - 2.4.3.3.5.3 Plasma - Fire
    - 2.4.3.3.5.4 Solid - Impact : Bludgeoning
    - 2.4.3.3.5.5 Solid - Intrusion : Piercing
    - 2.4.3.3.5.6 Solid - Separation : Slashing
  - 2.4.3.3.6 Order
    - 2.4.3.3.6.1 Entropy : Cold
    - 2.4.3.3.6.2 Negentropy : Heat
    - 2.4.3.3.6.3 Rejection : Reflection

Life and Death

2.4.4 DEATH : Most lives end with Death.

2.4.4.1 Deathgod is responsible for determining all Deaths and entering them in the Akashik Records.

2.4.4.2 A dead Wathan may not receive Inspiration of a Muse or otherwise participate in a Casting-of-Shadows.

2.4.4.2.1 Undead Wathan are not so restricted.

2.4.4.3 When the Fleshy envelope dies, Deathgod dispatches a Minor Death Servant to escort the Wathan unerringly to the Hall of Judgment.

2.4.4.4 Clerics shall have a minimum of one minute to Revive the instantiation of a Wathan before their Minor Death arrives. Gold Rank magic is required.

2.4.4.5 A miracle or spell of at least Platinum Rank, such as Raise Dead, must be used to summon the Wathan away from its Minor Death escort and place it within its previous fleshy envelope with full memory and Inspiration of a Muse. This summoning becomes part of the Akashik Record for that Wathan, for the fleshy envelope is damaged by the Platinum Rank energies.

2.4.4.6 Once within the Hall of Judgment, the Wathan requires a miracle or spell of at least 5th Rank such as Resurrection, to be used to summon the Wathan away from its Major Death escort, and place it within its previous fleshy envelope with full memory and Inspiration of a Muse. This summoning becomes part of the Akashik Record for that Wathan, for the fleshy envelope is damaged by the 5th Rank energies. A power of 8th Rank, such as Wish, may be used to return a Wathan to a fleshy envelope without damage.

Life and Death

2.4.5 BORN AGAIN : Coven Druids may relinquish their Wathan to the Motherlode and return to life in another of the Motherlode's servants.

2.4.5.1 The Motherlode is responsible for determining which of her creatures bears the Wathan of the Coven Druid.

2.4.5.2 Full memory and Inspiration of a Muse are regained with the passage of time.

2.4.6 ELEMENTAL CONFRONTATION : When confronted with a pure elemental force such as Acid, Chaos, Cold, Fire, Force, Ground, Lightning, Necrotic, Poison, Psychic, Radiant, Thunder, Water, Wind, or Void, a Wathan loses itself in that Element.

2.4.6.1 A conscious thought need not determine the Elemental Confrontation of a Wathan.

2.4.6.2 A Loa of that Element may retrieve the Wathan from the Elemental state with appropriate physical remains.

2.4.7 GLYVE : Human Swefen who possess four Flags of Power find themselves reincarnated in the Dung Pits of Glyve as a non-human race.

2.4.7.1 Memories are preserved, but Inspiration of a Muse is not.

2.4.8 JUDGEMENT : Blacksword holds court of the Powers of Reflections of Reality to determine whether a Wathan has offended those responsible for its disposition with willful acts.

2.4.8.1 Blacksword may speak seventeen Words of Tribulation against a Wathan.

2.4.8.2 One word of Tribulation may be spoken by each attending god or goddess recognized by a Reflections of Reality Telesterion.

2.4.8.3 One tenth of a word of Tribulation may be spoken by each attending Attribute Archetype Attribute wielder.

2.4.8.4 A quorum of Seventeen words must be raised for a Virtuous Judgment to be Made.

2.4.8.5 If all who attend elect to keep silent then the Wathan is given Reward before encountering Forgetfulness.

2.4.8.6 If all who attend speak a word of tribulation or portion thereof, then the Wathan is given Punishment before encountering Forgetfulness.

2.4.8.7 A mixed response of words and silence kept gives a Wathan immediate Forgetfulness.

Life and Death

2.4.9 SHIKEI : Blacksword may give the Judgment Malign and deliver the Real Death.
2.4.9.1 Historically this Judgment has been reserved for Dwarves with hubris.

2.4.10 PUNISHMENT : A Wathan found wanting by the Hall of Judgment passes through the First Door Guarded into Hell or Longer Than the Soul Can Bear.
2.4.10.1 The Influencer of Hell determines the manifestation of Punishment.

2.4.11 PARDON : The Presiding Illusionati may Pardon a Wathan from Punishment into Forgetfulness or Reincarnation.

2.4.12 REWARD : A Wathan found pleasing to the Hall of Judgment passes through the Second Door Guarded to Heaven or Seventeen Moments.
2.4.12.1 The Influencer of Heaven determines the manifestation of Reward.

2.4.13 FORGETFULNESS : The Wathan is given time to release previous lives and Inspiration of a Muse in The Dry Lands.
2.4.13.1 Deathgod is responsible for this duty.
2.4.13.2 A 8th Rank miracle or spell may retrieve the Wathan from The Dry Lands, often before the Wathan forgets the memories of a previous life or Inspiration of a Muse.

2.4.14 REINCARNATION : An empty Wathan receives a new fleshy envelope in the Gene Pools.
2.4.14.1 Blacksword is responsible for this duty.
2.4.14.2 5th Rank spells can bring a Wathan to this state in an hour.

3 Inspiration of a Muse

Inspiration of a Muse permits the Wathan to change its Akashik Record through interaction with Aspect and Attribute.

3.1 Inspired Adventures

3.1.1 Inspired Casting-of-Shadows must have a Haiku Party Leader with Aspiration (Goals) where a chance exists for failure.

3.1.2 The Haiku Party Leader must describe explicitly what Fulfillment of that Aspiration looks like.

3.1.3 Without Aspiration and Fulfillment, no Milestones are awarded for an Inspired Casting-of-Shadows.

3.1.4 At the conclusion of the Inspired Casting-of-Shadows, the Haiku Party Leader receives an Aspiration Milestone, regardless.

3.1.5 Only if all Aspirations are Fulfilled during the Inspired Casting-of-Shadows shall party members receive a Fulfillment Milestone.

9 Bill of Ights

For Yellow Tribe

9.1 The Codex of the Broadly Finite Planes

9.1.1 I'm just keeping it real here
We're going to crank it out

9.1.2 We've done something.
If people want something, because we,
We set the bar,
they can get on our Crazy Train.
We're going off the rails!

9.1.3 For the whole world, not just ourselves,
Careful what you put in the book
it's good for a whole year.
It might not be good.
They will understand our contrition
and not come down and beat us up about it.

9.1.4 Everybody has to work for it
Nothing comes easy
Everyone has to work for their ite
Whatever it is you want.
You don't just get it.
No more cheese
Everybody has to work for it

9.2 The Muses' Quarrel

9.2.1 Thalia laughs, her jester's bell rings clear,
"This flame shall write of mirth and joyous cheer!"
But Melpomene, seeking sorrow at her behest,
Cries, "Nay, in tragedy he'll shine his best!"

Bill of Ights

9.2.2 Urania gazes at the starry sky,
"Let cosmic stars guide him home!"
Klinure whispers with a knowing smile,
"With Fire the world may yet dream a while."

9.2.3 Terpsichore, with steps both light and free,
Declares, "His shall dance with burning ecstasy!"
The muses clash, each vying for lead,
To guide the poet's pen, his fire to feed.

9.2.4 Yet in their fervent clash, they fail to see
The poet's soul may hold a harmony.
For in the tapestry of human art,
Each muse contributes her essential part.

9.2.5 So let the flame embrace discord's song,
And weave a work where gifts belong.

9.2.6 Erato says, "Ah, sisters, in this fray,
"What's art without heart's tender sway?"

9.2.7 "Let love's sweet whispers guide their hand,
For passion makes each verse to stand.
In laughter's joy and sorrow's sigh,
Love weaves through all, it cannot die."

9.2.8 "Stars may shine and dreams may gleam,
"Yet love ignites the soul's true dream.
"So let him pen not just of joy or pain,
"But love's embrace—its sun and rain."

9.2.9 "For in this dance where spirits soar,
"Love is the muse that opens every door.
"In life's grand play, where all take part,
"Love lights the fire in every heart."
